EXPERTISE

As an international transaction lawyer with experience in both Red Circle law firm and multinational corporation, Albert Wang provides legal advice to public and private company clients on a wide range of corporate matters, focusing primarily on foreign direct investment, mergers and acquisitions, cross-border transaction, and commercial dispute resolution. Albert routinely counsels clients on matters relating to Asia Pacific, and known for his work connected to North America.

Albert works closely with Fortune 500 companies, startups, investment firms, and family offices in the manufacturing industry, computer science and technology, real estate, biochemistry, fashion, new media, e-commerce, logistics, textiles, and international trade. Albert also helps clients tackle pressing issues relating to personal data protection, cross-border fraud investigation, and joint venture restructuring. He has been recognized by his clients, which has led to him becoming a recommended attorney in the field of data compliance by The Legal 500, a leading legal rating agency, in 2023.

Albert is licensed in China and the State of New York; he also has Securities Practitioner Qualification (SPQ) in China. Before joining East & Concord, Albert worked as the Greater China Legal Head at a U.S. public company with 19th-century roots.
